

This was one of the happiest, friendliest Gatherings we Europeans have ever held. It was a joy to meet so many old friends in such a delightful city, and the superb organisation gave us all the opportunity to enjoy so many shared activities. A fantastic gathering of Delta Kappa Gamma Europeans.

Carrying the flag for Great Britain, as the newly installed State President, filled me with a real sense of pride and also stirred memories of my dad doing the same for the Royal British Legion over many years - quite an emotional event.

the banquet, supported by the fabulous brass band

Leadership training was enhanced by the passion, humour and intelligence of our International President - what a fascinating lady Lyn Schmid is!

Tack kära medlemmar i den svenska kommittén för en fantastisk konferens.

It was a lovely start to the conference with the music 'Tulips from Amsterdam' and Cor Wolff-Heins bringing the Light of the Conference from Holland to Sweden.

Also a big thank you to the ladies who drove us to Gothenburg for that wonderful boat trip.

There was so much to enjoy about this conference: The interesting places we visited, excellent speakers and good company. The visit to the Navet science centre was certainly different with practical fun science sessions and 'characters' introducing them. The most Swedish was at the Volvo factory - The car built of Lego!

Diana Bell

What a good choice of venue for the conference! Everything under one roof in a technologically 'savvy' hotel with really helpful staff. I was sorry I couldn't stay longer.
Kate York

Borås was a wonderful place to meet amazing DKG members. I enjoyed talking to new people about their countries and perspectives on education in delightful surroundings. The variety of elements in the conference was stunning from cultural highlights to stimulating Conference sessions. Thank you!

Congratulations to DKG Sweden State for organising such an enjoyable and stimulating conference. It was good to meet so many European friends and have an opportunity to exchange news and friendship. I particularly enjoyed sharing wine on a park bench with friends from the Netherlands and Germany - good fellowship indeed!

The Dahlen museum was a highlight - from mechanisms of lighthouses to AGA cookers and all sorts of engineering. Then the almost tangible tranquillity of Varnhem Abbey, both visited on the Monday's tour. Another day I found that the manufacturer's name on a submarine periscope at the Maritiman ship museum at Gothenburg was AGA!

Everything was fantastic especially meeting so many friends BUT I never expected to learn how to play 'Black Jack' as I did at the Finance stand at the Info Fair!

The after conference tours were wonderful and made so by many kind Swedish members who chauffeured us.

I, too, have many happy memories. After the conference I came across Milook. I entered and was served by a very nice lady, my size, and purchased a pair of black trousers, a black top and this little pink number.

What do you think?

I really enjoyed the small town of Borås where the conference took place. Great to have river side walks, street art, sculptures, evening concerts, cafes and surprisingly warm sunshine too, all within walking distance from the hotel. And when I went just over the bridge to catch my train for my onward adventures in Stockholm and beyond, three Swedish DKG ladies helped me manage the rail connections and continued to share their life experiences.

After the Conference, Diana Bell, Lavinia Soul and I went by ferry to Vrångö, an island in Gothenburg's southern archipelago. What a delight! It was a special, good to be alive day! We had time to explore the panoramic views and many small different habitat environments.

Vrångö is a large island, which has been a nature reserve since 1979. Its 400 inhabitants sustain a small fishing environment with a new harbour built in 2004.

We enjoyed a lunch of fresh crab and pickled herring and thought how lucky we were to have found such a place

An amazing conference! A wonderful hotel in a beautiful town and the opportunity to meet up with friends, old and new.

It was such a delight to be able to sit in a beautiful park on a warm summer's evening, listening to a Beatle's tribute band, watching people of all ages on the dance floor enjoying themselves. Kathy Hodgson and I had a wonderful time and felt as if we were really on holiday – very continental.

I have lots of good memories of Boras and it is a job to pick a favourite one! However, a lasting one is:-

The wonderful location of our hotel and the view of the park with its beautiful flowers and statues.
